AUTHORS' MANUSCRIPTS. for Necessary For Editors to Read Them From Beginning to End.

Once more the tale goes round of the author who sent a story to three jourials and had it returned by every one without having been read. He knew it pecause he had pasted two of the leaves ogether. Very likely. We do not think of reading through a half or a quarter of the articles that are sent to us. It iften does not take half a minute to disard what one knows he doesn't want. It is an old saying that one does not 19ed to eat a whole joint to learn whether it is tainted.

the candle of life at both ends. So me men who never go into vicious dissipation use up their energies just as much by overwork or late hours, and nearly all women are compelled by circumstances to use up their vital powers beyond all reason: It may be in housework; or social demands; or the bearing and rearing of children: At any rate the candle of life is too rapidly consumed. It would be a revelation to some of these writers to see how fast an expetienced and conscientions editor can, at times, go through a big pile of essays, stories or poems. The title is often mough, and he would say, "We don't want an article on that subject." The sext article begins with a page or two of commonplace introduction, and that is thrown aside in balf a minute's inspection without turning more than the next page. The next begins with a platitude—"We can't print that stuff."
The first verse of this next poem has demands; or the bearing and rearing of children: At any rate the candle of life is too rapidly consumed.

Some people need to have their natural vigor constantly reinforced in the same proportion that it is used up. They need the fortifung help of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a powerful alterative and invigorant of the digestive functions and liver; it cleaneds the blood, and makes fresh blood and healthy flesh. Nervous, debulated women should take it in conjunction which is specially designed for fem ile weakness and nervous troubles.

Mrs. Sallie Kauffman, of Virgil City, Cedar Co. Mo. writes. "I had suffered from displacement of internal organs and female weakness for one year. Had a bearing down sensation and very disagreeable feeling after my second child was born, I could be on my feet only a few minutea until he was six weeks old, then I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pavorne Prescription.' I took seven bottles in all. After taking the first bottle I felt much better. I think I am entirely cured of all my troubles. I can do all my work and am on my feet all day. I am in much better health now than I have breen in four years; am fleshy and gaining strength very fast."

By writing to Dr. Pierce who is chief corculting physician of the Invalids' Hotel false meter and is tossed aside. The cext begins in schoolgirl style, with 'dove'' and "love;" it is not read through. Of the next the editor reads ten lines. It is simply a duil description of a stream in a forest-not wanted. The next poem begins in a fresh way, seems to be constructed according to the rules, is pretty good. It is put gaining strength very fast. By writing to Dr. Pierce who is chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Ruffalo, N. Y., eareful professional advice will be obtained free of cost and specially adapted to the individual case. Dr. Pierce's great 1000-page Medical Adviser will be sent free for 21 cepts; the cost of postage. one side to see if other better poems will crowd it out. The next is a story. The first page is promising, but the secand shows a coarse strain, and the reading stops there.

Ten articles are decided upon, and with sufficient good judgment, in ten ninutes, for a minute to a manuscript is often twice as much time as it needs. It does not take that long for a dealer to stick an iron skewer in a smoked bam, draw it out and smell of it. Not one article in a dozen perhaps needs to be read through.—New York Independ-

It usually takes me about two months to convince myself that I shall never be any good, and then I give it up until a fresh burst of energy sets me trying once more. I played in Egypt until they told me that excavators had to pay a special tax. I inangurated a private course in Vermont also, and the Yankee farmers asked us what we were horing for. If ever the Ormean club should wish any part of their links returned, I could undertake in a few games to clear away any sod now existing."

"COMPETITION" THE CAUSE,

The Gazette says it fully realizes that competition is what has reduced the price of wheat. We are glad that our neighbor has been able to absorb that much information from the Journal, but when it says that silver has nothing to do with regulating the price, we fear that instructive information is wasted upon it. The Journal imagined that it made it perfectly plain that the principal competition was the immediate result of the demonstration of silver by the United States. Prior to that time, England supplied its deficiency of that cereal from this country. Why? Because with silver at par it could purchase wheat to better advantage here than in any other country that exported the article. India was not then an exporter for the reason that it could not successfully compete with the United States. Its average exportation now is about 50,000,000 of bushels per annum. What is the cause of this increase from nothing? Simply because it has found a market which was formerly monopolized by the wheat, growers of this republic. Silver is almost the exclusive correcty in India. Lagland, so far as her home there was marked improvement in Mr. government is concerned, is a gold nation, but is cute enough when the physician is hopeful the crisis is opportunity occurs to transform passed and that the patient is on the American silver into British gold. By road to recovery. purchasing the white metal in the United States at its commodious value, and paying it out at Indian currency par, it makes double profit in the two purchases. Not only that, but it encourages and fosters in one of its own colonies a productive industry beneficial to its own people, but equally disastrious to the American farmers, who formerly supplied the English market. The Gazette says there is not a word of truth in all this talk about buying in India at silver prices and celling in Liverpool for the same quantity of gold," but contradicts itself and gives its case completely trustees are A.
